11:40:09 From Jeremy Willette : What obstacles do you find people experience when they are starting out as coaches?

11:40:22 From Deb-Teacher Librarian/Head of LRC : If you don't have a curriculum coordinator, how do you get to all the teachers to help them and collaborate with them?

11:40:53 From Kayti Selbie : Any suggestions for how encourage teachers to work together? I often find myself introducing new ideas or resources to teachers and offer co-teaching etc but staff rarely choose to take this up.

11:41:17 From Cindy Colson : Do you survey the teachers to identify their needs and offer coaching accordingly, or do you offer regular coaching sessions and whoever is interested joins in?

11:42:32 From Cara Keyman : I find that sometimes we need to convince the teachers that what we have to share is important. When we can do this, the partnership develops.

11:43:57 From Jeremy Willette : Jordan is amazing at reaching out to staff all school year long. He touches base with teachers all year long and provides lots of professional learning opportunities.
