NEW PROGRAMME ANNOUNCEMENT

A NEW STUDENT-LED SERVICE PROGRAMME IS COMING!

CHANGE through Partnerships is a new endeavour being created by ECIS and ISL London as a student-led programme and conference aiming to help service learning evolve into two-way partnerships. The goal is to both foster relationships between your school and partner organisations so that those we serve are valued in a two-way partnership. Furthermore, we aim to provide authentic student leadership opportunities within the CHANGE programme and through their service at your school.

Our first conference will aim to accomplish these objectives as we are now forming a Steering Committee comprised of students that will help us prepare to train students how to form and maintain service partnerships.

Furthermore, we aim to bring many organisations to the conference to help form partnerships with schools; some examples include refugee schools. We expect to have a day-long conference event on 15 October 2022, held via Zoom and in local hubs where schools can get together, covering time zones from Asia through Europe.

We are in the early stages of this programme, and we look forward to hearing from you to involve your students in the planning and the conference. More information will be provided very soon.
