

15:03:04 From ckonkwo : Hi All, Clara from Vienna
15:03:24 From Jeremy Willette : Hi Matt! Jeremy from Shanghai.
15:04:25 From Linda Hoiseth (she/her) : Hi Matt! Linda from Delhi.
(We met when you visited my school in Doha.)
15:05:24 From Linda Hoiseth (she/her) : Matt did a fantastic session with our IB Film class. Offered professional critiques of the films our students were working on.
15:05:52 From Linda Hoiseth (she/her) : It was really powerful for our students to get such personal feedback after he watched their films.
15:06:46 From Sarah SIS : Great to know - sounds like that could be done virtually too? (IB film) 15:07:36 From Linda Hoiseth (she/her) : @Sarah - yes, that should work!
15:08:27 From Cara Keyman : Use the natural world to inspire students to read.
15:09:53 From Klaudia Janek : These are such great ESS, Geo and World Studies EE topics. I wish my DP students were listening to this.
15:12:48 From Cara Keyman : The world's wild places are closer than ever and more relevant than ever. Bring them into the library.
15:15:46 From Courtney Park : Nice! What a cool job!
15:15:52 From Linda Hoiseth (she/her) : Woot woot!
15:15:59 From Melissa Cavender : YEAH!
15:16:06 From Courtney Park : Yay! Best. Job. Ever.!
15:16:12 From Cara Keyman : Very exciting!
15:23:11 From Fahriye Kılınç To All Panelists : Great job!
15:23:12 From Jeremy Willette : Sad to see so much trash there. :(
15:23:25 From Courtney Park : What a heartbreaking photo
15:23:55 From Fahriye Kılınç To All Panelists : Very disappointing
15:26:13 From Courtney Park : Oh my. That is hard to even fathom.
15:26:24 From Courtney Park : Look at how much money there is in just that one photo, too.
15:33:36 From Katie Day To All Panelists : Q: are you working on a new book now? What's it about?
15:34:01 From Klaudia Janek : I think us life-long readers have quite the special connection :) I love it!
15:34:21 From Katie Day To All Panelists : Sounds great!
15:34:25 From Courtney Park : Q: What places are still on your bucket list to visit?
15:34:29 From Jeremy Willette : Great book for us to add to the SDG book blog!
15:35:09 From Linda Hoiseth (she/her) : Q. Do you book through Authors Abroad, or is there a better way to get in touch with you?
15:35:43 From krisfeller : We'd love to have you come see us in Moscow when flights open up again. Used to be a direct flight London-Moscow.
15:36:05 From Cara Keyman : Authors Aloud and Authors Abroad
15:36:30 From Sunita Malekar : What do you think about Covid-19, from the environment point of view. Just a curious to know.
15:36:35 From ckonkwo : Which age groups do you work best with?
15:37:33 From Klaudia Janek : What do you miss most about various book/library conferences?

15:39:04 From Cara Keyman : He's workshops are really good for second language learners because his presentations are so visual.
15:39:21 From krisfeller : How young can you go with age groups?
15:39:35 From Courtney Park : Thank you, Matt! It was fascinating and I look forward to crossing paths again.
15:40:07 From Fahriye Kılınç To All Panelists : Thanks! Great presentation! I would love to read your books.
15:40:20 From Klaudia Janek : This session was great. Thank you. I enjoyed it.
15:40:24 From Melissa Cavender : Thank you from Argentina!
15:40:26 From ckonkwo : Thanks a lot Matt!
15:40:39 From Kathy Cromartie : Thank you. Great presentation.
15:40:44 From Sunita Malekar : Enjoyed it.
15:40:44 From Ebru AVCI : Thank you.
15:40:44 From Helle Kirstein To All Panelists : Thank you - wonderful presentation!
15:41:05 From Kathleen McKim : Hi, Matt. I did have a reluctant reader pick up The Everest Files, and tell a friend that it looked pretty good.
15:41:10 From Jeremy Willette : Thanks so much, Matt!!
15:41:13 From Sabrina Rossi : Thank you, very interesting
15:41:16 From Devaki : Thank you !!
